

Justin, a regular guest at the HTC, proudly shows his winning photo as one of the finalists in the 2018 MyNew Orleans Photo Project Calendar Contest! 14 finalist photos were chosen to be featured in the 2018 Calendar. Five other regular HTC guests were also finalists. The MyNew Orleans Photo Project aims at creating a new perspective of New Orleans by giving out 100 disposable cameras to individuals experiencing homelessness. The participants take pictures from their "views" of the Crescent City, and the 14 finalist images selected are featured in a calendar that can be purchased online.

Each year, we spend thousands of dollars on buying necessary items for our hundreds of daily guests, including items such as full-size towels, toothbrushes, laundry detergent, OTC medicine, cleaning supplies, and more. However, now we have a new way to donate to the HTC! Check out our new Amazon Prime Wishlist, where you can choose items we are in need of and have them sent directly to us! It's very easy to donate to us this way- just select the items that you want to send us from our list and designate "The Harry Tompson Center's Gift Registry Address" as the shipping address. Thanks for your support!

The Holiday season is approaching, and that means it is time for the national day of giving- #iGiveCatholic's #GivingTuesday is just around the corner, and advance giving starts November 10. Be on the lookout for more announcements about HTC's participation in this wonderful day!

Are you using Amazon to order your Halloween costumes and party supplies? If so, did you know that if you use smile.amazon.com and designate the HTC as your nonprofit of choice that Amazon will donate a small portion of your purchase is donated directly to the HTC? So if you decide to skip the headache of finding the perfect costume in the store and opt for the ease of ordering through Amazon, you can also help the HTC!
